31.05.2005 События

On the occasion of the professional holiday of scientists - national Day of the Science which is celebrated on the last Sunday of May, the Agency on Innovations and the Transfer of Technologies has organized on May, 30 this year the exhibition of the most significant scientific achievements in 2004. The State Agency of Intellectual Property has presented within the framework of this exhibition the stand containing various editions in the field of intellectual property protection of the Republic of Moldova: brochures and the booklets covering the general aspects of the intellectual property, the legislation in the given area (inventions, trade marks, industrial designs as well as the periodicals issued by Agency.

Источник: https://agepi.md/ru/node/5313